Additional Things to Know

Be Wary of Fraud

Criminals often exploit those who are most vulnerable during times of emergencies. Common scam tactics that fraudsters may utilize in these instances include:

- Impersonation of disaster relief agencies and organizations
- Phishing scams
- Fake charities
- Fake insurance or utility representatives

Please be diligent to ensure that you do not fall for these schemes. Avoid clicking links in emails or messages sent to you by someone you do not know. Be suspicious if something doesn't seem right or is too good to be true.

In addition:

- Beware of contractors going door-to-door offering unsolicited assistance or using high-pressure tactics to force you to make a snap decision. They may say they're with your insurance company—do not believe them. Do not sign a contract, put down a large deposit or a cash deposit.
- If you get a phone call about an insurance claim or policy, don't provide any personal information or agree to any payment until you can independently verify that the call is legitimate. If the caller says they're from your insurance company, hang up and contact your agent or the company directly using the number on your account statement.
- Check any licenses before you sign anything. You should make sure any insurance agent or public adjuster offering their services has a valid license by checking online with the Department of Insurance.
- Be cautious of anyone promising to expedite your FEMA or other government assistance for a fee.
