Dear Friends,

I hope you and your loved ones are safe and well. 2021 was another year of uncertainty, but it also gave us hope and signs of what a new life in the arts can be.

Since March 2020, The Actors Fund has served more people than ever before in our 139-year history—and we couldn’t have done any of this life-changing work without you.

The Fund continues to respond to our community’s needs by providing emergency financial assistance at an unprecedented level (p. 4) and developing new mental health resources and support groups (p. 9). At The Actors Fund Home, the safety of our residents and staff remains the utmost priority as we continue to care for the most vulnerable in our community. In fact, The Home just received a 5-star rating from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, which along with a badge of honor from US News & World Report for our short-stay rehabilitation services and other accolades, makes it one of the best facilities in the country (p. 8).

The staff at The Friedman Health Center for the Performing Arts and our Health Insurance Benefits Specialists are dedicated to providing the tools for good health and steady health insurance, two essential elements to keeping our community safe and at work (p. 7). And our Career Center continues to prepare those looking for work with how to adapt to a constantly changing labor market (p. 5).

In addition, we’re focused on increasing housing stability in New York and California, where we broke ground on The Hollywood Arts Collective (p. 6; 12–13) and celebrated the completion of renovations on The Palm View Residence in West Hollywood (p. 22–23).

We’re also profoundly grateful for the many partnerships and broad philanthropic support provided to enhance our services, in particular the incredible generosity of Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS. Their leading support at this critical time continues to ensure our programs and services remain a vital part of supporting a life in the arts for everyone in our community (p. 24). Working hand-in-hand with multiple collaborators, we kicked off 2021 with a brand-new musical that grabbed our hearts and those of fans all over the world: Ratatouille, The TikTok Musical (p. 18). Later in the year, we hosted our virtual gala to honor Debbie Allen, Niko Elmaleh, Stacey Mindich, Seth Rudetsky and James Wesley (p. 19). And in between, we welcomed new Trustees Greg Berlanti, Billy Porter, Henry Tisch and Chandra Wilson (p. 17).

Thank you for supporting a life in the arts as we move forward together, making sure those who have dedicated their lives to the performing arts can safely return to the jobs and lives they love. We look to the next year with hope and determination, and we’re honored to have you by our side.

With gratitude,

Joseph P. Benincasa, President & CEO
A life in the arts brings uncertainty even in the best of times. And since its founding in 1882, The Actors Fund has provided a safety net for entertainment professionals throughout all stages of their lives.

In March of 2020, our performing arts world changed in ways we never could have imagined. The entire entertainment industry shut down. But with your help, our community did what we do best: we rallied together, took action and are continuing to take care of each other.

In 2020, we helped more than 40,000 people with our health and wellness, career and life, and housing services. That’s 71% more than in 2019. And our staff processed nearly $19 million in emergency financial assistance grants to more than 15,000 people in need. That’s almost 10 times the amount of assistance we provide in an average year.

In addition, we expanded and deepened access to our services, reaching people in all 50 states, Washington, DC, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

And we broadened our community. The number of non-performers making use of our services increased by 55%, and we helped people from 126 different occupations, including those behind the scenes and non-union workers.

We also saw increases in participation in our services from Latinx, Black, Mixed Race, Transgender and Non-Binary people. We created support groups to recognize the unique and differing needs of our community, including the Black Entertainment Professionals Gathering, the Asian American and Pacific Islander Entertainment Professionals Gathering, the Gendertainers: From Safety to Celebration group and many more.

TOGETHER, WE
Delivered Assistance

In Their Own Words...
“Thank you for the generosity to my family during this difficult time. Your organization is helping me pay my mortgage and feed my family. I am so grateful, and do hope to pay this forward in better times. Your kindness will not be forgotten.”

“I am thoroughly aware of how much my professional arts brothers and sisters have been impacted by the pandemic. I also realize how fortunate we are to have you on our side! The good that The Fund has done, and continues to do, is immeasurable and felt throughout the entire entertainment community.”

Responding to Our Community’s Needs

The Actors Fund’s work to help those in the performing arts impacted by this pandemic is built on preparedness, responsiveness, action and collaboration. The Fund is committed to understanding the unique needs of our community and harnessing resources to mitigate life’s challenges—including the crises that befall entire populations during disasters such as the public health, economic and sociopolitical turmoil of 2020.

Within days of the shutdown in March 2020, we quickly transitioned our emergency financial assistance application and almost all of our programs to online and phone services. We rapidly increased our operations to reach more people unfamiliar with what we offer. In fact, last year 5 out of 6 people served were new to The Fund.

With your support, since March of last year, we have distributed more than $24 million in emergency grants to more than 17,000 people around the country, through our own funds and those of almost 20 partner organizations. These grants continue to help people with essentials like rent, food, medicine and health insurance premiums. They have also provided relief for those impacted by natural disasters such as hurricanes, wildfires and tornados.

In the Western Region we saw an increased need for our emergency financial assistance last year: more than half of those receiving this assistance from The Fund live in California. This includes people who work in all areas of our industry such as those behind the scenes and below the line.

We also provide an increasingly popular selection of educational seminars on topics including navigating career (p. 5) and health insurance options (p. 7), mental health (p. 9), finding affordable housing (p. 6) and managing finances.

In this issue of Marquee, we’re honored to share how—together—we’re supporting a life in the arts. Thank you!

PEOPLE IN NEED*

*From March 2020 through November 1, 2021
The entertainment community has been deeply affected by this pandemic. In late 2020, it was estimated that 95% of artists and creative workers had lost income and 63% were unemployed. Despite a cautious industry reopening, hundreds of thousands of jobs are no longer being supported.

While many industry professionals are accustomed to fluctuations in their income due to the episodic nature of their work, last year’s COVID-19 closure of so many offices, schools, restaurants, ride share companies and other establishments that provide them with supplemental income closed off all revenue sources at once.

The need for our career services was greater than ever. And thanks to your support, we rose to the challenge.

Last year, our skilled counselors, employment specialists and instructors provided services to more than 5,800 people. That’s 164% more than in 2019, with two out of three people served new to The Fund.

In preparing people for a changing labor market, we discovered that understanding their skills and the ability to transfer their expertise to different fields is a driving concern.

So, we adapted our offerings.

We continued our one-on-one counseling and workshops around longstanding topics such as Resume Writing and LinkedIn networking. And we added new offerings, such as:

- How to Job Search During a Pandemic
- Innovation & Entrepreneurship During COVID-19

In addition, our Wednesday Forum series explored topics like recruitment trends, identifying creative work alternatives and the future of work in a COVID-19 economy.

Our Creativity Doesn’t Age speaker series provided forums to explore the importance of work and community engagement in combating isolation and loneliness; career identity and reinvention; intergenerational collaboration, and more.

And our Spotlight Series for stage managers, musicians, dancers and comedians highlighted the transferable skills that people can use to generate work in other professional arenas.

In Their Own Words... “Thank you for the wonderful career resources that you provide. I was able to attend the entire series of job-hunting webinars, and the skills that I learned helped me land the job I have now. I will continue to use The Career Center as a resource indefinitely, and always recommend it to my dance peers.”
Housing stability is a critical concern for people who work in performing arts and entertainment. In addition to our three existing affordable housing residences (The Palm View in West Hollywood, The Dorothy Ross Friedman Residence in Manhattan and The Schermerhorn in Brooklyn), which were home to 448 people last year, our Housing Resource Center provided one-on-one consultations and online information via our Housing Bulletin Board. We also welcomed more than 1,000 people to our affordable housing seminars.

Despite the challenges of the pandemic, we safely and successfully completed a beautiful renovation of The Palm View, our affordable housing residence that provides homes to low-income people with special needs (p. 20).

And we’re especially excited about our recent virtual groundbreaking of The Hollywood Arts Collective, a brand new affordable housing residence and neighborhood arts complex, developed in partnership with Thomas Safran & Associates, now under construction in the heart of Hollywood and slated for opening in 2024 (p. 12).

In Their Own Words...

“If not for The Actors Fund, I wouldn’t be able to achieve so much. I have an intercom if I have an emergency. I have a social worker. I feel loved. I feel protected.”

—Gilda, resident of The Dorothy Ross Friedman Residence in Manhattan.
(Read Gilda’s story on p. 10).

As the top of the page is a rendering of The Hollywood Arts Collective, a $124 million project that will include 151 units of affordable housing for artists, the 77-seat Glorya Kaufman Theater, art galleries, rehearsal studios, non-profit arts office space and a new home for The Actors Fund Western Region Headquarters.
Following months of unemployment, performing arts and entertainment professionals faced a compounded crisis as thousands lost their health insurance coverage due to plan changes or no longer qualifying for their union or employer plans.

Thanks to your support, we helped more than 4,800 people last year through our health insurance services. That’s 45% more than in 2019, with half of the people we assisted new to The Fund.

Thanks to a generous grant from Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS, we were able to provide more health insurance enrollment counseling for both union and non-union performing arts and entertainment professionals.

And at The Friedman Health Center for the Performing Arts in New York City, more than 6,000 patients received care—20% more than 2019.

In Their Own Words…

“I had to navigate the confusing world of health insurance this year. My counselor listened empathetically to my situation, asked me all the right questions and walked me step-by-step through applying for a plan. She truly went above and beyond for me—and I know that if she did all that for me, she’s doing that for anyone who asks for help.”

Congratulations to Dr. Samantha Stimmel of The Friedman Health Center for the Performing Arts, for being recognized with Mount Sinai Health System’s Cullman Family Award for Excellence in Physician-Patient Communication. Recipients of this year’s award were ranked in the top one percent nationally in provider communication for 2020 as measured by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services’ Clinician and Group Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems patient experience survey.

During the current crisis, The Actors Fund has provided continuous care while prioritizing the safety of the senior members of our community.

Over the course of the pandemic, The Actors Fund Home in Englewood, New Jersey, has continued our quality assisted living, skilled nursing, memory care and short-stay rehabilitation services for our entertainment community. In fact, the New Jersey Department of Health has inspected The Actors Fund Home multiple times this past year, and has returned a perfect survey result each time.

From the outset of the pandemic, The Home’s staff has gone above and beyond in protecting those who are most vulnerable while still maintaining the highest level of daily care. The team at The Home operated with swift precision to keep everyone—residents, their families and staff—as healthy and safe as possible, with frequent COVID-19 testing.

When The Home was closed to visitors due to safety precautions, staff made sure to keep residents connected to their families and friends via Zoom, Facetime, emails, phone calls and window visits. We continue to follow mandated state and federal guidelines, and as of today, 100% of staff and long-term residents have been fully vaccinated.

In addition, we have completed a “Pandemic Proofing” construction project to further protect the building and facility.

We salute all of the frontline workers at The Home who have been working tirelessly to keep residents—and each other—safe. Thanks to your support, our team has been there in countless ways to provide excellent health care and services to our residents.

In New York City through our partnership with New York Cares, over 150 volunteers made more than 12,000 wellness calls to participants of our Seniors Program.

In addition to providing comfort and company to vulnerable seniors isolated due to the pandemic, these wellness calls identified issues like food insecurity and mental health concerns, and allowed social workers and team members to provide timely pantry deliveries, medical resources and additional levels of care to seniors.

For seniors who had been hospitalized, we coordinated safe discharge plans with hospital and/or rehab staff and assisted in arranging home care and meal delivery services.

Throughout the pandemic, The Fund has also provided safe online socialization opportunities for seniors, including virtual book clubs, open mic nights, dinners and even a cooking show.

In addition, our team has continued outreach to hundreds of seniors in our community to assist them in gaining ongoing access to appointments for the initial vaccine and booster shots.

Learn more about our programs for seniors at actorsfund.org/Seniors.

The Actors Fund Home was among only 1,650 facilities nationwide to be recognized with this badge of honor for the excellence of our short-stay rehabilitation services.

In Their Own Words...

[“Thank you...] for helping us fill out our papers sent to us by different medical and government organizations. There is no money that is worth enough to pay for your valuable help towards our mental and spiritual peace that thousands of older people for many years have received, and are receiving like me.”
Recent times have posed significant challenges to the mental health of people in our industry. The extended period of financial instability, sociopolitical upheaval, natural disasters and social isolation, have taken an emotional toll on so many.

As our community reached out over this period for financial assistance, health insurance and career support, we were also there to provide groups to help address issues like stress, anxiety and depression.

Last year, we provided 53 support groups—led by our trained staff—for more than 500 individuals. Our online groups are designed to provide a safe space for attendees to facilitate discussion, share resources, support one another through current challenges and develop coping strategies.

In the stressful time of change and unknowns, these groups have provided support for people in handling uncertainty, finding ways to cope, managing relationships and loneliness, providing ongoing care for loved ones, dealing with loss, and navigating hope and resilience.

And we also continue to offer daily Mindfulness Meditations to help people manage and reduce stress.

While facing the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic, The Fund has also responded to the pandemic of devastating racism throughout our country. A commitment to embrace diversity and seek equity, inclusion and dignity for all is built into the values of The Actors Fund. We are dedicated to listening to, learning from and creating space for diverse voices that must be heard.

The Fund began offering multiple groups and forums to provide Black, Indigenous and People of Color entertainment professionals a safe space to affirm experiences, discuss the impact of racial injustice and thrive within the industry.

These groups include:
• Thriving with The Actors Fund Group for Black-Identified & People of Color Entertainment Professionals;
• Black Entertainment Professionals Town Hall;
• Mind Body Spirit Group for Black Women in Entertainment;
• And for young performers, our Looking Ahead Support Groups for Young Black Male-Identifying Performers, Young Black Female-Identifying Performers, and their parents.

We also started a monthly group for Black Entertainment Professionals and held workshops on Combatting Anti-Asian Bias for Entertainment Professionals in our community.

In Their Own Words...

“To give voice to our experiences; to process them; to come out on the other side knowing we are supported gave the greatest validation and healing insight. The BIPOC Healing Group has truly been a gift.”

“I have been lucky to be a part of the Women’s Group for Self-Care in the industry... When the height of the pandemic hit and we could continue working together and seeing each other over Zoom it meant and still means so much to all of us... I cannot thank you enough.”
Finding Hope, Connection & Resilience

Since March 2020, The Fund has processed over 17,000 requests for emergency financial assistance—all while continuing to provide compassionate support to people in our industry in all stages of their careers.

Although theaters, TV and film sets, dance, music and comedy venues have reopened, life for the performing arts and entertainment community is far from being back to normal.

With your continued support, The Actors Fund will be able to provide a critical safety net for entertainment professionals throughout their lives—from professionals like Osiris and Rena (p. 11), to older adults like Gilda and Zan (below) who have dedicated their lives to their craft.

Gilda’s Story

Gilda lives at our Dorothy Ross Friedman Residence in Manhattan, which provides supportive housing to special low-income groups, including seniors. “I have an intercom if I have an emergency. I have a social worker. I feel loved. I feel protected,” Gilda explains. She also appreciates other resources we offer—including her health care, insurance counseling and our calls every week to see how she’s doing.

Because of The Actors Fund, she believes her fellow seniors “have hope. We live with hope.”

Just as important, she finds connection thanks to our CenterStage program for seniors. Through the CenterStage Podcast Group, Gilda produced The Punch Bowl Bumpoff!, a play by her friend Zan, an award-winning playwright who is also a client of The Fund. The whodunnit was recorded as a podcast and featured a star-studded cast of senior performing artists. It even won a 2021 Hometown Media Award! Presented by the Alliance for Community Media, the award recognizes excellence in programs that had their first telecast on a local cable access channel—in this case, on the Manhattan Neighborhood Network. To Gilda, the production means “keeping these people alive in spirit.”

The octogenarian certainly doesn’t feel her age: “I have all the means to still produce, to do, to be busy. You don’t feel like you are left out. You’re part of a group.”

Playwright Zan also stresses the intangibles, like how our senior programs nurture her creativity. “They’ve given me an avenue to work with things I worked on years ago that I was able to dust off and bring back.”

We’re committed to keeping vulnerable seniors safe, healthy and thriving. With your generosity, you’re supporting a life in the arts—an entire life.

If not for The Actors Fund, 83-year-old Gilda says, “I wouldn’t be able to achieve so much.” It’s heartening to know that this energetic artist—an acclaimed film and television actress, radio broadcaster (whose work is documented by the Smithsonian), author and avid podcaster—continues her creative journey with support from The Fund.

Gilda Mirós, Actors Fund client

Osiris is a Black, queer, 40-year-old playwright, poet, actor, teaching artist and activist living and working in Chicago. He survived a brain tumor, an aneurism and an assault. He lost his mother and his sister. Then, he lost his home. But after so much loss, Osiris found a caring community when he contacted The Actors Fund.

For Osiris, not having safe and secure housing meant that not only did he not have a place to live, but also as an artist, it meant he didn’t have a space to create. It was a difficult and frustrating time.

Then, the pandemic hit and Osiris—like so many people across the country—faced months of isolation, no work and no income, making things even more painful.

With your help, The Actors Fund was able to assist him with a security deposit for a place to live, along with funds to pay his rent until he could return to work.

Because of the support Osiris received, he is working again—creating and thriving as a performer, poet and producer. “My career is moving again,” he says. “It makes me happy to be in this position, to work in the performing arts and to be able to help others.”

“If it weren’t for The Actors Fund, I don’t know where or how I would be living now. I’m able to manifest a different reality for myself. I’m humbled.”

Osiris knows he’s struggled on his journey to get to this point. But when he thinks about the future, he’s hopeful. It’s clear that the tough times he’s been through have not quelled his spirit, his resilience or his creativity. “I’ve been down. I’ve been homeless. But I’m still here. I’ve got this!”

Rena received her SAG-AFTRA card in 1988. She has worked successfully as a Los Angeles-based actor, dancer, writer, director and filmmaker.

After more than three decades in the industry, she was familiar with an inconsistent and often fluctuating income. However, with the onset of the pandemic, she suddenly found herself—like thousands in the entertainment community—without work and isolated.

“I hit rock bottom,” says Rena. Not knowing where to turn, she called The Actors Fund. “I remember the day that I reached out I was crying. I felt hopeless about life. Hopeless about my career.”

She was immediately connected with a counselor who worked with her one-on-one. “They were so compassionate,” she remembers, calling her counselor “a life saver” and adding that “I wouldn’t be here without The Actors Fund. [They] gave me so many tools to put my life back together and regain resilience and hope. The sense of community they cultivate is invaluable.”

Counseling and financial assistance helped Rena feel more hopeful. She explored the offerings of the Career Transition For Dancers program, and attended many of The Fund’s “amazing workshops” and classes with information on managing stress, her finances and her career.

With new knowledge, encouragement and support, Rena applied and was chosen to be on the SAG-AFTRA LA Local Women’s Committee. She hopes to empower others to find resilience and achieve their own artistic and creative ambitions. “My goal is to get back on my feet and become a donor to The Fund!”
The Hollywood Arts Collective is the embodiment of The Actors Fund vision: a world in which individuals contributing to cultural vibrancy are supported, valued and economically secure.

In February 2021, we, along with affordable housing developer Thomas Safran & Associates, broke ground on The Hollywood Arts Collective, a $124 million project that will include 151 units of affordable housing for artists, the 71-seat Glorya Kaufman Theater, art galleries, rehearsal studios, non-profit arts office space and a new home for The Actors Fund Western Region Headquarters.

“The Actors Fund has been supporting the entertainment community in Los Angeles for over a century,” said Annette Bening. “The Hollywood Arts Collective allows us to significantly deepen our commitment to our colleagues in the Hollywood creative community.”

“We are thrilled that this innovative and essential project is finally being realized in the heart of Hollywood, thanks to the support of our Founding Donors: Glorya Kaufman, Monica Horan and Phil Rosenthal, Olga Garay-English and Kerry English, and Bonnie Comley and Stewart F. Lane,” added Joe Benincasa.

“Los Angeles is a city where creativity and solutions meet—and where innovative strategies inform answers to everything from housing to economic development to reinforcing Hollywood’s role as a center for jobs and opportunity,” said Mayor Eric Garcetti. “The Hollywood Arts Collective is a tribute to the Angeleno spirit, combining an affordable place to live with a dynamic place to create, transforming a home for artists into a thriving community for the arts, and breathing new energy into the heart of our city.”
The Hollywood Arts Collective will consist of two buildings: The Arts Building, designed by HGA, and The Residential Building, designed by Withee Malcolm Architects. The development is located on Hollywood Boulevard between Wilcox Avenue and Schrader Boulevard, further contributing to the revitalization of Hollywood as a cultural epicenter and destination for the arts and entertainment communities. The project, which is currently under construction, is expected to open in 2024.

“For 139 years, The Actors Fund has been helping people in the performing arts in need,” said philanthropist Glorya Kaufman. “My passion has been theater and dance and helping causes that help people in these professions. Therefore, The Actors Fund has been the crown jewel in my philanthropic life. I’m so excited about being part of this new project for the performing artists who will receive shelter, support and care in LA.”

“Access to affordable housing is critical to a thriving creative community in Hollywood and the city of Los Angeles,” said Actors Fund Western Region Executive Director Keith McNutt. “This project will allow professionals in our industry to live, work and perform in the center of creativity in Los Angeles. Their presence, their work, will be an engine of the continued arts-based revitalization of Hollywood.”

“By 2024, this project will be a reality. Here, in the heart of Hollywood. A beautiful new space for our arts and entertainment community,” said Chandra Wilson, Trustee and member of the Western Council. “And The Actors Fund will be their closest neighbor. This is an incredible achievement that will support our arts and entertainment community for generations to come.”

In 2021, The Actors Fund was pleased to welcome four new members to our Board of Trustees: WGA, DGA and Golden Globe-nominated writer, director and producer Greg Berlanti; Emmy, Grammy and Tony Award-winning performer and activist, Billy Porter; producer Henry Tisch; and award-winning theater, television and film actor and director Chandra Wilson.

Chandra Wilson shared, “Our industry is a hard one in the best of times. Now more than ever, we know that a home is a precious right that must be protected and affordable, that mental health care is crucial, and that as a community we must look out for and take care of one another. I’m honored to join the Board and build on the incredible legacy The Fund has created for all of us.”

“On stage and behind the scenes, Billy Porter embodies a passionate commitment to the values of The Actors Fund. His remarkable career and his life as an artist inspire all who encounter him in person, on stage and on screen,” said Joe Benincasa.

The Board of The Actors Fund establishes policies for administering the programs and services of the organization, which has served the performing arts community since 1882.

“Henry Tisch distinguishes himself as he continues his family’s tradition of service,” said Chairman Brian Stokes Mitchell. “We are so proud that he is joining the Board. Henry represents the next generation of leaders who are advancing theater, film, television and new forms of media, and are dedicated to supporting all who make it.”

“I could not be prouder to join the Board of The Actors Fund,” added Greg Berlanti. “The last year has been hugely difficult for our industry. The services provided by The Fund are critical to the well-being of so many, providing direct financial relief and also support and counseling at such a critical time.”

For a full listing of the board, councils and committees of The Actors Fund, visit actorsfund.org/Leadership.
Throughout 2021, the COVID-19 pandemic has continued to limit live performances and in-person gatherings to prioritize the safety and well-being of everyone on stage and behind the scenes, in front of the camera and below the line, and in the audience.

As live performances begin to return, we are reminded of the creativity we have seen this year, and that special performances can happen in all kinds of spaces: live streaming concerts and prerecorded podcasts; brand new musicals developed online; virtual plays starring artists living thousands of miles apart; and so many more.

We thank all those who donated their time, talent and energy to events to benefit The Fund and to everyone who joined us and donated in support of our programs and services. Your generosity makes it possible for The Actors Fund to be a safety net for the performing arts and entertainment community as we continue to navigate this uncertain time and return to creating the theater, music, dance, TV and film that we all love.

We hope you continue to join us actorsfund.org/Events.

Ratatouille: The TikTok Musical

There was no better way to welcome the new year than with Ratatouille: The TikTok Musical! Premiering on Friday, January 1, 2021, this charming new musical, based on the Disney/Pixar animated feature, was enjoyed by more than 201,200 viewers and generated an extraordinary $2 million to benefit The Actors Fund, making this the most successful fundraiser in Actors Fund history.

Thanks to Producers Greg Nobile and Carly Callahan of Seaview Productions, Executive Producers Jeremy O. Harris, Michael Breslin and Patrick Foley, the star-studded cast and top-notch creative team who worked tirelessly on this unprecedented collaborative effort.

Special thanks and gratitude to everyone at Disney Theatrical Group, including Thomas Schumacher, Andrew Flatt and Angelo Desimini for their support and guidance on the project.

Stars In The House

When Broadway shut down in March 2020, Seth Rudetsky and James Wesley jumped in to action! They recognized the increasing needs of the community and created Stars In The House, a livestream series to benefit the programs and services of The Actors Fund. To date, the show has raised more than $1.1 million to benefit The Fund! Since its first episode streamed live on March 16, 2020, Stars In The House has been transporting viewers into the homes of artists and entertainment professionals as they perform songs, share behind-the-scenes stories, take part in epic Game Nights and more. Stars In The House also regularly provides up-to-the-minute medical information from CBS Chief Medical Correspondent Dr. Jon LaPook. Almost two years later, Seth and James continue to share their generosity of spirit and invite viewers to donate and spread the word about The Fund.
On November 1, we virtually gathered to celebrate The Actors Fund, all the work done this past year, our phenomenal donors and supporters, our clients and all that’s to come in the future of our performing arts and entertainment community. This remarkable evening raised more than $1 million in support of our programs and services.

In addition, we bestowed The Actors Fund Medal of Honor upon actress, dancer, choreographer, singer-songwriter, director and producer Debbie Allen; clean tech investor, real estate developer and philanthropist Niko Elmaleh; Tony, Grammy and Olivier Award-winning producer Stacey Mindich; musician, actor, radio host, author and producer Seth Rudetsky; and playwright, actor and producer James Wesley.

Our honorees represent the communities we serve, including entertainment professionals working in film, television, theater, music and dance.

“Throughout our 139-year history, The Actors Fund has been incredibly fortunate to have steadfast support for our work,” shared Joe Benincasa. “And this year’s Medal of Honor recipients—Debbie, Niko, Stacey, Seth and James—continue this legacy in their commitment to not only The Actors Fund, but also to the entire performing arts and entertainment community. We were so proud to celebrate their invaluable contributions to supporting a life in the arts.”

Club Cumming on the Coast

The Actors Fund is thrilled to have partnered with award-winning actor, singer, producer, author and philanthropist Alan Cumming as he brought his iconic New York City nightlife venture, Club Cumming, to scenic Kennebunkport, Maine this summer. Visitors enjoyed dinner, cocktails and a roster of live entertainment personally curated by Cumming and his team, with a portion of proceeds donated to The Fund’s COVID-19 relief efforts.

Show of Titles

Presented by Broadway’s Best Shows, Show of Titles was a rousing and memorable celebration of title songs from more than two dozen Broadway musicals spanning nine decades, ranging from Lady Be Good to The Light in the Piazza. Performers included Candice Bergen, Danny Burstein, Glenn Close, Bryan Cranston, Kelsey Grammar, David Alan Grier, Jake Gyllenhaal, Sheldon Harnick, John Kander, Angela Lansbury, John Lithgow, Patti LuPone, Brian Stokes Mitchell, Jessie Mueller, Kelli O’Hara, Lea Salonga, Aaron Tveit, Leslie Uggams, Vanessa Williams, Patrick Wilson, Broadway Inspirational Voices and many more who performed and spoke during the show.

Together Apart

This project evolved out of a true Zoom moment: a Brown musical theater reunion attended by graduates from the 80s–90s. Lisa Loeb, ’90 Graduate and Grammy Award Winner, was energized by the digital reconnection, and inspired to write a musical about the experience. She asked the group if they wanted to collaborate, and the result is Together Apart, a collection of new short musicals written, composed, directed-by and starring Brown University alumni, to benefit The Actors Fund.

Spotlight on Plays 2021

Spotlight on Plays returned this spring with a starry lineup of live-streamed plays featuring Oscar, Pulitzer, Tony and Grammy Award-winning artists including Debbie Allen, Ellen Burstyn, Bobby Cannavale, Kathryn Hahn, Kevin Kline, Audra McDonald, Phylicia Rashad, Keanu Reeves, Heidi Schreck, Alia Shawkat, Heather Alicia Simms, Alicia Stith and more. Proceeds from the series were donated to The Actors Fund, and we’re grateful for Broadway’s Best Shows and the artists who shared their time and talent.
September 14 was a thrilling night for Broadway and The Actors Fund. We are grateful to all three shows for the donation of tickets to the reopening performances of The Lion King, Wicked and Hamilton. As the lights came back on, audiences were welcomed back with speeches made by Kristin Chenoweth, Lin-Manuel Miranda and Julie Taymor. It was a memorable evening filled with thunderous applause and excitement for all who attended.

Crossovers Live!

Hosted by Brian Stokes Mitchell, Crossovers Live! is an exciting and innovative talk show featuring stars who’ve made the jump from stage to film, television or music. Guests this season included Vanessa Williams, Daniel J. Watts, Marc Shaiman, Megan Hilty, Bernadette Peters, Kristin Chenoweth, David Hyde Pierce, Audra McDonald and Ariana DeBose, with a portion of proceeds donated to The Actors Fund.

Michael Kors 40th Anniversary

We were honored to be included in the celebration of Michael Kors’ 40th Anniversary Collection. Filmed in the heart of Times Square, the world premiere featured a dazzling array of stars sharing their love for Broadway and urging support for The Actors Fund. To mark the occasion, the Michael Kors Company—and Michael Kors himself—made generous donations to The Actors Fund.

Disney Presents: Live at the NewAm: Concerts to Benefit The Actors Fund

In July, we celebrated the reopening of Broadway’s historic New Amsterdam Theatre with a concert featuring Disney stars Ashley Brown, Michael James Scott, Kissy Simmons and Josh Strickland. This honored the support The Actors Fund has provided to members of the entertainment industry throughout the pandemic.

Jake Gyllenhaal and Russ & Daughters LOX Hoodie

We are so grateful for the generosity of Jake Gyllenhaal, who, in collaboration with New York City culinary icon restaurant Russ & Daughters, designed the LOX hoodie. All proceeds from the sales of this limited-edition hoodie were donated to The Actors Fund.

The Show Must Go On

The Show Must Go On made its premiere at Broadway’s Majestic Theatre in a one-night-only fundraiser for The Actors Fund. The documentary follows two productions in South Korea—the world tour of The Phantom of the Opera and the South Korean tour of Cats—as they pushed forward safely during the pandemic. In addition to the film screening, the evening featured live performances by Adrienne Warren, Ariana DeBose, Sierra Boggess, Ali Ewoldt and Shereen Pimentel.

On September 9, a ribbon cutting was held to celebrate the newly renovated Palm View apartments in West Hollywood. Attendees included Mayor of the City of West Hollywood Lindsey Horvath; The Actors Fund Trustee & Chair of the Western Council David Rambo; Los Angeles County Development Authority (LACDA) Executive Director Emilio Salas; Kingdom Development, Inc. Vice President Finance Grant Stephens; Project Manager of MFRG-ICON Ron Britton; VP, Community Development Banking at JP Morgan Chase & Co. Eri Kameyama; City of West Hollywood Mayor Pro Tempore Lauren Meister; City of West Hollywood Councilmember John Erickson; Actors Fund Western Region Executive Director Keith McNutt; Actors Fund Director of Social Services, Western Region Tina Hookom; and City of West Hollywood Councilmember Sepi Shyne.

The project involved updates to make the units and common spaces more accessible for its residents, ensuring all units follow current ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) regulations. The Palm View’s Community Room, which hosts events and programs for residents, was completely redone and the second floor now features a revamped computer lab and a private office for the complex's full-time, on-site social worker.

“I’m thrilled that renovations at The Palm View are officially complete, and residents with special needs can safely live among others in the community who understand both the unique challenges and triumphs of a life in the arts.”

—David Rambo, Chair of the Western Council
Emilio Salas said, “The renovation of The Palm View Apartments represents a collective effort to improving the accessibility and affordability of units for performing arts and entertainment professionals. With these changes, we hope to bring the same smiles and enjoyment to the talented residents of The Palm View Apartments as they once gave to others.”

“It’s wonderful to see The Actors Fund making this project a reality,” said Mayor Lindsey P. Horvath. “The Palm View, with its three residential buildings and a beautiful outdoor courtyard, features 40 units of service-rich housing for low-income people with special needs. It was one of the first projects of its kind to offer housing specifically to people living with HIV/AIDS. The Actors Fund’s commitment to providing case management, referrals to local resources, counseling and community-building activities is exactly what our City needs.”

“We’re so grateful to the City of West Hollywood and the Los Angeles County Development Authority for their commitment to these comprehensive and beautiful renovations at The Palm View,” added Keith McNutt. “The project team, led by Actors Fund Chief Financial Officer Connie Yoo, Kingdom Development and construction partner MFRG-ICON, overcame unprecedented obstacles throughout 2020, but never faltered in their dedication to building improvements that not only benefit current residents, but also all those to come.”

LA County simply doesn’t have enough apartments that working people can afford. That’s why the renovation of The Palm View is so important, because it means that nearly 50 West Hollywood residents will continue to have a decent, affordable place to call home for years to come.”

—Sheila Kuehl, Los Angeles County Supervisor
